

Fr. Diran and the Parish Council are excited to announce that the doors to our sanctuary will be opening for our faithful on Sunday, July 19! However, pursuant to an Executive Order signed by the Governor of New Jersey, our capacity will unfortunately be limited to only 50 people.

In order to take appropriate precautions, encourage social distancing, and prevent the spread of COVID-19 amongst our community, anybody attending Divine Liturgy will be required to wear a face mask throughout their entire stay in the sanctuary. Additionally, hand sanitizer will be available in the narthex, and its use will be encouraged upon arrival. Each attendee will also have his/her temperature evaluated with an infrared thermometer prior to entering the sanctuary, and will subsequently be escorted to a designated seat marked with an "X".

Since we can only accommodate a total of 50 people for the time being, anybody who would like to attend Divine Liturgy must contact the church office by calling 201-791-2862 by 12pm on the Friday before each upcoming Sunday to secure a space.

Any family that has requested a requiem service (hokehankisd), will be able to have a total of 10 family members attending services. We ask that each person's name be provided to Mary Ann in the church office.

Lastly, while we cannot wait to see everybody at church again very soon, we encourage anybody who is 65 and older, or may have an underlying health condition, to continue worshipping with us through our livestream, so as not to jeopardize their health or well-being.
