

WORKSHOP ON ARMENIAN LITERARY TREASURES

WORKSHOP LEADER: DR. HERAND M. MARKARIAN

This 4-week journey to diverse literary worlds will explore Armenian literature through the ages and its development as a unique phenomenon in the history of world literature.

The first session will provide an overview of Armenian Literature with discussion focusing on its historical developments, the effect of political, religious and social factors and their impact on its evolution.

Each of the remaining sessions will look at one of the following three genres of Armenian Literature: Poetry, Prose and Drama. Seminal works and masterpieces will be highlighted to show thematic variations over time and location and the role of underlying literary and social currents.

DR. HERAND M. MARKARIAN is a playwright, poet, academician, literary and theatrical critic, actor, director, and producer. He has authored 26 plays, published 13 books and directed 53 plays.
